PARADE ACQUITTED.

The jury in the case of O. L. Pardee, of Newton Falls, charged with burglary and larceny for breaking into a store house of Christian Sommers, of this city, last summer and stealing $7, returned a verdict of not guilty as charged in the indictment. On account of Judge Ambler, before whom the case was heard for the past two days, leaving the court room shortly before the verdict was reached, Judge Harter received it. The jury was out about two hours.
The defendant is the first prisoner to be acquitted at this term of criminal court. Pardee was bound over from Mayor Turnbull's court where he pleaded guilty to the charge preferred. He was placed in the county prison on September 15 and has been confined there since. When arraigned in common pleas court he entered a plea of not guilty. He alleged that the of-scars by whom he was arrested had double crossed him by promising to get him out of the predicament immediately if he would acknowledge the deed which he heartily agreed to do. He maintained all the time after his arrest that he was not guilty as charged. After being acquitted he shook hands with the veniremen and left the court room with a broad smile on his countenance. The defendant was represented by Attorney Peter J. Collins.

ADDITIONAL JURORS.

Deputy Clerk of Courts Agler in the presence of Deputy Sheriff Charles Kirk late yesterday afternoon drew from the jury wheel the names of 12 veniremen who will be summoned this morning to appear in common pleas court at 1 o'clock next Monday afternoon. The names of the jurors drawn follow: Wesley Knoll, Washington township; John Schranz, Lake township; Abraham Furnace, Canton; Dennis Heesland, Alliance; Edward C. Bates, Alliance; Hiram Clay, Jackson township; David A. Cockran, Canton; Daniel Meyers, Lake township; Samuel Lerch, Canton; William Reed, Sugar Creek township; Harry H. Crider, Tuscarawas township; Frank M. Stanley, Lexington township.

DIVORCE WANTED.

Pearl V. Shorb has brought suit in common pleas court for divorce against Sanford Shorb. Plaintiff alleges that she married the defendant February 23, 1905, at Beach City, and that three children, Ralph aged 4, Vera G., 2, and Dwight, seven months, have been born of said marriage. Further that the plaintiff is guilty of extreme cruelty and infidelity.
Plaintiff asks the court to grant a restraining order to prevent the defendant from selling or encumbering any of the personal property; that she be allowed temporary alimony pending the final hearing of the case and that she be awarded the custody of the minor children with reasonable alimony.

APPEAL CASE.

The National Wine company has brought suit against Francis B. Doherty as executor of Peter Gannon's estate for the collection of $25.20. The case was appealed from the justice court of Bernard Bell, at Massillon.

WIFE RESTRAINED.

A temporary restraining order was issued by Judge Harter yesterday preventing Irene Whetstone, of Woodland avenue, from interfering with or trespassing upon the property of the Northwest Expanded Metal company, of which her husband, Frank Whetstone, is president. The order was secured by Attorney Snyder in behalf of the husband who alleges that the wife has been injuring his position. He brings suit for divorce on the grounds of neglect and cruelty. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant on various occasions has threatened his life. The couple were married on June 25, 1903, and one child, Imogene, aged 5 years, was born of the union.

CASE NOLLED.

The case of Neal McLean, of Louis avenue, 18 years of age, indicted for burglary and larceny on a charge of breaking into the Diebold garage, on West Fifth street, and taking an automobile, has been nolle. McLean, who has been a prisoner in the county prison for some time was given his liberty.

DEFENDANT DISCHARGED.

Probate Judge Bow after hearing the testimony in the case charging Mrs. Anna Kingston, of Alliance, with the abandoning of four children, discharged the defendant. Proof showed that the defendant had left them in charge of a sister of the mother residing in this city, and that the sister was receiving a momentary consideration for the custody. The defendant was represented by Attorney Maneval while Probation Officer Yutzy was counsel for the state.

NEW CASES.

19648—Frank M. Whetstone vs. Irene B. Whetstone. A. T. Snyder, attorney.
19649—The National Wire Company vs. Francis B. Doherty, executor of Peter Gannon. Thomas C. Davis, attorney for plaintiff and O. C. Volkmer, counsel for defendant.
19650—Pearl V. Shorb vs. Sanford Shorb. W. S. Putnam and Milton J. Braucher, attorneys.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

ATWATER.

Atwater, March 12.—The Five Corners sewing society are going in a body to visit Mrs. Lillian Betts Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Betts will furnish dinner.

Miss Mary Eyer went to Alliance Wednesday to work.
Miss Cora Hicklen, high school near graduate, is of age (18) today and therefore wise enough to stop over Thursday night with Miss Nola Whittlesy and tonight with Alliance friends thereby escaping many bumps at home.

We are pleased to see our Mrs. Geo. Reindner elected as lecturer in Pomona Grange.
Edgar Lodge had made before March 10 over 100 gallons of maple syrup from 30 trees. Eliza Whittlesy over 20 from some 400 trees. Fred Mix from his 150 trees has made enough to float a small gun boat—I forget how many gallons. The market at Atwater is glutted and no sale. Syrup cans are being stored a week. The large supply made early by Lucy Sanford was exhausted days ago.

Major W. H. Voorhees, having been appointed as aid-de-camp G. A. R. has ordered a fine new uniform made to suit his taste. The coming summer at Newark to where he is appointed a delegate to A. G. Wileman Post, Marlboro, and again at Salt Lake City on occasion of national encampment.

Herbert Fox has rented the Charley Diller farm, known formerly as the Hatcher farm. He takes possession April 1st.
The Deer Creek W. S. A. met with Mrs. Alice Whittlesy Thursday afternoon. The condition of the boulevard kept the attendees below normal. A treat to new maple sugar cakes was just sweet of Alice. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Wm. Yerkes.

John Fox Jr. was a very sick lad for some time, but is now recovering from pneumonia. Better today.
The Atwater schools will have a recess all of next week. This is an annual habit to give the boys a chance to help dad a week in sugar making; the season being so premature got a little ahead of the school board this time.

Atwater boasts a "Penna Ave." It is south of Yale, O., northeast Atwater, a corner of the square, the other three corners not yet occupied. The "Ave." is 2 1/2 miles in extent and is so called for the reason that so many western Pennsylvania people have bought farms along the road. In the road are two original owners, we'll call them, "Tom." It's this way, only not so nearly unanimous, in all the northeast part of the township and many are buying in other parts of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Long and Sylvia Royer were guests at the Edgar Lodge home Sunday and had a sweet time. Clay Rockhill and Harry Fox had different opinions, which is expressing it milder than they did theirs the other day when they divided hay down on Clay's farm.

The four teachers and their pupils of the high school building had a practical demonstration Wednesday of the necessity of oxygen to sustain life. The fire, the furnace, the chimney causing the furnace to draw backwards. In short, smoked 'em out and they all went home and every mamma in every corner of town thought their dears were coming home sure sick. The contract for the erection of the basket factory and veneering work building was given to Henry Bartholomew. A building 30x120 two stories, with an engine room adjoining to be made of blocks will be erected as soon as possible. The building to be heated by steam. The engine has been purchased. The following board of directors were chosen at a recent meeting: S. W. Wilson, president; G. P. Sherman, vice president; E. S. Goodman, secretary and treasurer; E. D. Wilson and C. E. Spies.

Major W. H. Voorhees and his wife are both experienced journalists. They both held editorial positions for years on San Francisco papers. The major told the writer today a laughable incident happening while he worked on a San Francisco paper. A prominent man came into the editorial room one day very warm "neath the stars." The editor asked him if he had been a subscriber and advertising patron of the paper for those many years. Yet if his wife took a trip out of town not a word was said, though every other wife was noticed. Editor: "Is your wife to leave town soon?" "Yes, tomorrow (Tuesday) for Los Angeles." "When will she return?" "Friday." "All right," says the editor, "we'll fix it up." Monday evening's edition stated that "Mrs. Sam Mullen will leave for Los Angeles for Los Angeles Tuesday." Tuesday's edition said that "Mrs. Mullen started for Los Angeles this morning at 4:15." Wednesday's edition had it, "Mrs. Mullen arrived at Los Angeles safe at 10:30 last evening." Thursday's edition said: "Mrs. Mullen will return to her home tomorrow." Friday's edition gave the startling information that "Mrs. Mullen left Los Angeles for home at 5:10 this morning and Saturday evening news stated that she had arrived at Massillon at home last night at 11:35. And another soul made happy—not?

The literary exercises this afternoon at high school consisted largely of a mock trial before Wm. Myers, J. P. of Atwater. The charge was the theft of chickens of Carl Siddall. Attorneys for the prosecution, Earl Siddall, Leslie Kump. For defense, Thomas Denton and Wm. Slabaugh. Witnesses: Wilson, Lee Stewart, Ralph Thompson, Miss Marion Hall, Miss Nola Whittlesy, Rolla Anderson, Miss Gladys Kump, Ralph Henry, Merton DeGroot, Bane Weldy, Miss Cora Hicklen, George Douthitt. The jury being demanded by the defense, the following jury was named: Miss Bertha Baldwin, Miss Ruby Royer, Freda Porter, Pearl Shewell, Merl Drayner, Russell Mowen, R. M. Mattle Porter. The pleas were eloquent beyond description. Feathers, ovals, etc., were brought into evidence. The jury after being out 15 minutes brought in a verdict of six votes guilty, two votes not guilty. The J. P. fined defendant $200, the fine suspended for 30 days.

MILLERSBURG.

Millersburg, March 11.—Edward Patterson has been indicted on four separate bills. One for assault and battery, one for criminal assault on Mrs. Klotz and two for pointing firearms on a person. Patterson recently figured in a sensational divorce case in which his wife was plaintiff.
The divorce case of Elizabeth McCulloch vs. Dalbert McCulloch is now on trial and the testimony has developed a state of things unknown here and it so impressed Judge Veygant that he stopped the case at the close of plaintiff's testimony long enough to hear the attorneys on the question as to whether there had not been a collusion between the parties to bring about a state of facts that would give the plaintiff a divorce.

A former suit was settled by the payment to her of $300, and they again went back to Cleveland to live together but could not agree and they again separated and this suit was brought. Plaintiff claims the $300 was not for alimony but was her interest in a farm sold by defendant. She now is asking for alimony and this is fought fiercely by the defendant.
